Information about your rights in relation to data processing

Right of access to personal data: you may request information on whether the Controller is processing your personal data; if it is, you may request a copy of the personal data processed.

Right to rectification: you may request the Controller to rectify inaccurate personal data relating to you without undue delay and to complete incomplete personal data processed.

Right to restriction of processing: you may request the Controller to restrict the processing of your personal data without undue delay and without undue delay.

store only part of your data/personal data and not carry out any other processing operations (such as use, disclosure, transmission) on them. You may request restriction of processing for the following reasons:

- You contest the accuracy of your personal data,
- processing is unlawful and you object to the deletion of the data,
- the Controller no longer needs the personal data but you require them for the establishment, exercise or defence of a legal claim,
- you have objected to the processing, in which case the restriction applies for the period for which it is not established whether the legitimate grounds of the Data Controller prevail over your legitimate grounds.

Right to object

You may object to the processing of your personal data at any time on grounds relating to your particular situation. In such a case, the Controller may no longer process the personal data unless the Controller itself demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Right to a remedy

You may lodge a complaint about the processing of your personal data with the Data Protection Officer of the Data Controller at the contact details provided above. You may also lodge a complaint with the National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information (address: 1055 Budapest, Falk Miksa utca 9-11., postal address: 1363 Budapest, Pf. 9., e-mail address: www.ugyfelszolgalat@naih.hu) as supervisory authority if you consider that the processing of personal data concerning you infringes the provisions of the GDPR; and to a court if you consider that your rights under the GDPR have been infringed as a result of the improper processing of your personal data.

Complying with data subject requests

Your request for the exercise of your rights will be fulfilled free of charge, unless your request is manifestly unfounded or excessive, in particular because of its repetitive nature, and for additional copies of your personal data processed, for which the Data Controller may charge a reasonable fee based on administrative costs.

Your request for the exercise of your rights, if you have made your request electronically, will be carried out electronically, unless you request otherwise.
